PRODUCING OUR OWN INDUSTRIES

Small, diversified industries employing a dozen or more skilled mechanics can be established here by our own people. Why not? That is the healthiest kind of growth and there are men here with ideas. Two local men have established a nickel and silver plating plant and that should grow, producing small tools, auto parts and the like. Come forward, men, with your ideas and let's do things.

MAYOR HARTFORD ELECTED CHAIRMAN TERCENTENARY

General Committee Holds First Important Meeting and Organizes--Lively Interest in the Plans

The first active steps to plan for the Tercentenary celebration of this city, were made on Friday afternoon when there was a meeting of the General Committee for the purpose of organizing and making plans for the preliminary work. The Central Committee which has been compiled by the Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce consists of people who have been chosen from the Chamber and representatives from about every organization in the city, who had been invited by the Chamber to name a member to represent their club or society.

The meeting was held in the Probate Court room and when it was called to order at four o'clock there was a representative gathering of people present. In the absence of temporary chairman Gustave Peyser, Mr. Sherwood called the meeting to order and called for a report of the committee of which Dr. S. F. A. Pickering was chairman. He outlined the work that had been done, how each member of the General Committee had been invited to make nominations for permanent chairman, secretary, treasurer and an executive committee of ten. He read the nominations.

A ballot was taken for permanent

SO. IRELAND STANDS FOR SELF DETERMINATION

(By Associated Press)

Dublin, Feb. 4.—Southern Ireland stands for self-determination on those sections involved in the dispute of Ulster's boundaries. This was made clear by Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann, in an interview in which he fully upheld the attitude of Michael Collins in the recent conference with Premier Craig of Ulster.

"Mr. Collins represents the unanimous attitude of the Provisional and the Dail ministries," he said.

COLLECTOR FIELD IN WASHINGTON

Collector of Internal Revenue John H. Field has been in Washington the past few days regarding matters in connection with his department. He called on members of the New Hampshire delegation during his stay.

Mrs. Millie Damon Hobbs gave a very interesting and instructive address on music Friday afternoon at the regular meeting of the teachers at the Eliot High School.

FINAL MEETING OF DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE ON MONDAY

Open Meeting This Morning—President Harding Will Deliver Valedictory

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 4.—Just after 10.30 o'clock this morning the sixth plenary session of the Arms Conference got under way for the final acts of the history making event which has consumed exactly twelve weeks. Today's program was formal completion of the Far Eastern problems by the adoption of several treaties already agreed on and to clear the way for the final session Monday when an address by President Harding will close the conference as it was begun on November 12.

The general Far Eastern treaty embraces the Root four-point and the open door for China as presented first by Secretary Hughes. The text of the treaty follows closely and in some places identically the language of the resolution of the previous address on the subject. Without a word of disapproval the treaty was adopted on a roll call of the nine powers. Then the Chinese tariff treaty was presented by Senator Underwood, chairman of the committee that drafted it. A declaration by China not to alienate any portion of her territory also was put on the conference records.

A resolution was unanimously adopted which was designed to provide procedures for dealing with questions that might arise in connection with the Chinese general treaty relating to the open door treaty and conditions of the Chinese railways.

Assent of all powers was given the resolution declaring on the part of China that she will not alienate any part of her territory. Senator Underwood was asked by Chairman Hughes to discuss the provision of the Chinese tariff treaty. The Senator said it might seem anomaly to some that the conference, after recognizing the territorial integrity of China should engage in a compact on a domestic question.

Senator Underwood read the statement of Minister Kwo on behalf of China, declaring that the Chinese government had no desire to disturb the present administrative system.

Without debate the tariff treaty was approved by the conference.

Senator Lodge presented the supplement to the four-power Pacific treaty defining the treaty's scope so as not to include the principal islands of the Japanese empire. He did not make a speech on the treaty.

WHOLE IRISH QUESTION ONE FOR IRELAND TO SETTLE

(By Associated Press)

London, Feb. 4.—Michael Collins' suggestion to Premier Craig of Ulster for a conference of the representatives of the whole of Ireland to adopt a common policy and frame a constitution is the main outcome of the new development of the situation. Morning newspapers insist that the boundary question is one for the two Irish governments to settle and that the British government must keep out of the vortex of Irish politics.

SLEEPING CARS ON B. & M. R. R. DERAILED

(By Associated Press)

Boston, Feb. 4.—The night train from Montreal of the Boston & Maine Railroad, arrived here today with sleeping car passengers sitting up in day coaches as a result of the derailment of four sleeping cars at Warren, N. H. No injured were reported. The accident was attributed to a defective switch.

32-MILE RACE OF DOG TEAMS ON

(By Associated Press)

Lancaster, N. H., Feb. 4.—A 32-mile stretch over hard roads lay before the three dog teams that started from here this morning on the run to Berlin and the last lap of the 120-mile international race. The Esquimaux huskies of Arthur T. Walden of Wonolancet, with a 20-minute time advantage over the mongrels of Jean Lebel, gained in the first two days race were last away. They mushed out half an hour after Lebel had disappeared over the hill.

The first to leave was Jacques Suzanne, the Lake Placid, New York, driver, who was so far behind in time that he was admittedly out of the contest for first or second place. Suzanne left an hour before Lebel.

MOVING PICTURE ACTRESS CHARGED WITH MURDER

(By Associated Press)

Los Angeles, Feb. 4.—Police suspicion in the murder of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, was directed today chiefly toward a young motion picture actress, whose name was withheld, and then toward another film director whose name was also kept secret. Revenge with jealousy was the motive for the killing, in the minds of some detectives.

While efforts were being made by officers to locate the actress and director, it was understood the latest angle to the investigation would not cause them to relax their search for Edward S. Rand, Taylor's former butler.

A thorough review of Taylor's friendship with the actresses brought the police into a close knowledge of it. The motion picture actresses include Mabel Normand, Mary Miles Minter and Clair Windsor.

NO CHOICE IN BALLOT FOR POPE

(By Associated Press)

Rome, Feb. 4.—Another ballot for the election of a successor to Pope Benedict was taken by the conclave of the Sacred College this morning but without results. Smoke began to appear from the chimney of the Sistine Chapel where the conclave was in session shortly before 12 o'clock. The expectant crowd watched eagerly from the moment the first whisps showed themselves but the smoke immediately began to assume the telltale dark color which indicated there had been no choice by the Sacred College at the morning conclave.

Mr. Frank Muchmore and family have moved from Washington street to Mahlowood avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Granson have taken the house vacated by the former.

TWO BANDITS IN BOLD ROBBERY, PISTOL DUEL

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Feb. 4.—Two bandits today entered a jewelry store in the exclusive Sheridan Road residential section, handcuffed the proprietor and a customer and after gathering up jewelry valued at $10,000, fought a pistol fight with the police outside, in which one policeman and one of the bandits were wounded. The wounded bandit was captured.

The New McCALL PATTERN

The New

McCALL PATTERN

IN announcing the opening of our New McCall Pattern Department we feel that we are offering to our customers a wonderful new pattern service.

From the time that the paper pattern came into existence, nearly fifty years ago, there has been no fundamental improvement in the pattern itself until the advent of the New McCall Printed Pattern.

All of you are familiar with the old-style tissue-paper pattern, a thing of dots and dashes, circles, and various perforated marks requiring translation, all of which is done away with in the New McCall Pattern—"it's printed." On each piece of each pattern are clearly printed, in simple language, full detailed instructions.

We believe the New Printed Pattern will prove the biggest boon to women since the invention of the sewing machine. Women who, from experience, have learned to use the perplexing old-style pattern will appreciate the simplicity of the New Printed Pattern, and thousands of women who have never learned to use patterns will be able to practice wonderful economy with the aid of the simplified New McCall Pattern—"it's printed."

An invitation is extended to you to inspect the New McCall Pattern—"it's printed."

GRAY ANNOUNCES REORGANIZATION OF THEATRES CO.

A complete reorganization of the Maine and New Hampshire Allied Theatres Company, from which William F. (Billy) Carrigan, former manager of the Red Sox, retired two weeks ago, has been effected at Lewiston. New stockholders were announced on Friday by the president, William F. Gray, as follows: Harry Stetson, president of the Lewiston Trust Company; George W. Lane, Jr., treasurer and cashier of the Lewiston Trust Company, and Dr. E. G. W. Cushman of Auburn. Out-of-the-city men who have purchased stock in the company were announced as including John P. Remedy, manager of the Hayden Stone & Co. Boston branch, and Daniel J. Lyon, associated in the practice of law with Gen. C. F. Logan of Boston.

More than 5 theatres in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont are now controlled by the company, which plans to extend its scope by the entrance of new capital and blood.

PORTSMOUTH HIGH MAY PLAY SERIES WITH SO. PORTLAND

A basketball series between South Portland High and Portsmouth High, N. H., at the endof the season for the inter-state honors may be played, if both teams continue to maintain their excellent records to date.

Coaches Carl Wiggin of Portsmouth, and Kelley of South Portland met on Wednesday night to discuss the proposition and both were favorable to a game or series, one at Portland, one at Portsmouth, and the third if necessary on a neutral court.

Portsmouth is at present undefeated and the leading contender in the state of New Hampshire and hopes to represent that state in the Tufts College basketball tournament later. So. Portland on the other hand is the pre-inter outfit of this section of the state and a battle between the two would be an excellent card.

South Portland tried to book Portsmouth on their trip to play Deering Wednesday but Portsmouth having two more games this week, one with Berwick Academy and Rochester high declined to consider it at present but would like to meet the Capers later if arrangements can be made and probably will be if they continue their present gait.—Portland Press Herald.

Ralph E. Dowdell has changed his residence from Willard avenue to a new home on upper Islington street.

PRESIDENT HARDING ANNOUNCES A SURPLUS FOR YEAR

Washington, Feb. 3—Announcing prospects of a surplus of governmental receipts over expenditures this fiscal year as a result of economies in administration, President Harding in speaking today at the second business meeting of the government declared he doubted "if any government in the world has made a more persistent and conscientious endeavor to cut down its expenditures and institute economies and restore sane and normal ways again," than has the American government.

The President and Director of the Budget Dawes, who followed him, announced to the meeting, composed of more than a thousand government officials of high and low degree that direct savings of $23,000,000 and indirect savings of more than $101,000,000 had been accomplished in less than six months through the operation alone of the Budget Bureau's co-ordinating agencies. Mr. Harding expressed the further opinion that the efforts on the part of the government toward economy had been reflected among the people at large.

"I cannot but feel that the government has in this budget organization set an example of care and thrift that has helped greatly to make sabing fashionable, if to some extent the government has been a leader in so praiseworthy a cause, we ought to all be grateful to have had a part in the affairs. Much of the extravagance of government has been due to a lack of sense of individual responsibility, and the same is true in the corporate businesses and the private affairs of the people. If our efforts here shall set a standard and inspire an ambition for greater economies and higher efficiency we shall have served not only the government but the whole people particularly well. Perhaps our example will be of service to the world."

The President reiterated his opposition to deficiency appropriations, and made a plea for an understanding among officials of the government that "the common good" not departmental advantage, is the end at which all of us must aim."

Discussing the prospects of a surplus instead of a deficit as was generally expected, Mr. Harding appealed for a continuation of the "careful and painstaking effort which has been made continuously during the first half of the year" and added:

"In a business so great as that of the national government unexpected receipts will not infrequently swell the total of calculated revenues. It seems likely that this will be true during the current year. But despite this possibility it now seems probable that the reductions upon expenditure which have been possible by reason of the administration's general policy and your splendid co-operation would have resulted in a surplus of receipts for the year. The prospect of such a surplus when compared with the estimated deficiency of $21,500,000 that was outlined in the budget figures submitted to congress in December, is certainly an occasion of much satisfaction to all of us."

DAIL EIREANN MEETING DELAYED

(By Associated Press)

Dublin, Feb. 4.—Reassembling of the Dail Eireann, which had been set for February 14, has been postponed until February 28, it was announced by the Dail publicity department today. The impending railroad strike was said to have caused the postponement.

GREAT BAY SMELTS BRING WAR TIME PRICES

Great Bay smelts are bringing as high a price now as during the height of the war. There is a difference of fifteen cents a pound between the price of Great Bay and Eastern smelts. The greater part of the smelts brought here are from Newmarket and Exeter rivers where by a strange freak of the law they are allowed to be netted while in the bay they can only be taken by hand lines. Hand line fishermen have not been having much luck so far, but the fishermen who use nets are demanding and getting the same price for their fish, and selling all that they bring to town.

TALKS ON THE CARE OF CHILDREN'S TEETH

The new Franklin school Parent-Teacher Association held its monthly meeting and social Friday evening at the school building, nearly a hundred being in attendance.

At the business session Raymond Andrews was elected treasurer to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Paul Kane, as the latter left under to attend to the duties of treasurer, La Jump being taken up with other business.

Dr. B. F. Staples gave a helpful and interesting talk on the care of children's teeth and how neglect of proper care of the teeth in childhood was often the cause of numerous diseases in later life.

A violin selection was rendered by Leo Sollod, accompanied on the piano by Miss Florence Marshall. Mrs Frank Kent rendered a vocal solo, accompanied on the piano by Miss Mabel Fenton, and these musical selections gave added interest to the gathering.

A social time followed and refreshments of ice cream and fancy cookies were served.

THE GROUND HOG A GOOD CHANCE ON THURSDAY

The ground-hog if he did not get up too late Thursday could have come out without any fear of seeing his shadow, so that if we are to believe the old saying, we may expect a short winter and a warm spring. The old tradition however, does not seem to stand up under a close study of the weather record for the past ten or twenty years.

One man who took the time and trouble to make a study of the matter finds that when Candlemas day was cloudy, and Master Johnny Chuck could have come out without being freightened by his shadow, the majority of winters were just as long and in some cases longer than when Candlemas day was bright and fair. Throughout this section, Johnny Chuck would have had rather a hard time digging himself out yesterday with the snow and ice that is on the ground.

HOW SAVINGS GROW

In 1923 the Portsmouth Savings Bank of Portsmouth will complete 100 years of uninterrupted existence. It was the ninth savings bank chartered in this country. Application was made for a charter in 1819, only three years after the first savings bank was chartered at Philadelphia, but none was granted until 1823. One of the first depositors in the Portsmouth Savings Bank was Levi Woodbury, then Governor of the State. He opened accounts in the names of his children. Account Number 26 was in the name of his son, Charles Levi Woodbury, who removed to Boston and practiced there as an attorney. To the generation now passing he was well known in New Hampshire as a brilliant campaign orator.

The first deposit was of $5, made September 4, 1823. Between that time and August 21, 1843, additional deposits of $253.00 were made. Dividends added in that period amounted to $262.37. The withdrawals during the same time were $515.07, so that on August 21, 1843, there was a balance to Mr. Woodbury's credit of $176. Having no need for the money he allowed it to remain undisturbed and to accumulate. He informed the officers of the bank that he regarded it as an insurance fund to be paid to his estate at his death. When he died in 1901 the balance to his credit was $3,760.04.

The Portsmouth Savings Bank also has what it terms "History Books." These are pass books that were issued to depositors in the early life of the bank. Only one deposit was made in each and this was undisturbed until in the settlement of some estate it was withdrawn. Merely as a matter of history the amount of the regular dividends are entered upon these closed books. Account No. 143 is of a deposit of $20 made December 17, 1821, less than four months after the bank started. If the account had continued open and undisturbed it would have amounted to $1,224.77, in 1900, to $1,653.56 in 1910, and to $2,386.72 in 1921.

Account No. 343 was opened eight months after account No. 143, and for the same amount of $20. If it had continued open and undisturbed it would have amounted to $1,128.80 in 1900, to $1,524.15 in 1910, and to $2,199.88 in 1921. The difference between these two accounts, No. 143 and No. 343, is $180.64, and shows in a very striking manner the value of interest accumulations, as this difference, which is more than eight times the amount first deposited in either account, arises solely from the compounding of interest on the first six months' dividend which No. 143 received and No. 343 did not.

JAPANESE LEAVE CALIF. FOR HOME

Los Angeles—What appears to be a back-to-Japan movement of the Japanese in Southern California, noted in the Los Angeles newspapers at various times in the last six months, was continued from Los Angeles with the departure yesterday of the Japanese liner Anyo Maru, bound direct to the Orient.

Several hundred Japanese mostly women and children, and among the latter, many American born, were aboard when the ship steamed out of the harbor, followed by a host of fishing boats from which their country men called farewells. There has been no explanation from any Japanese official here of the fact that virtually every liner leaving Los Angeles or the coast in recent months, has been crowded with Japanese, mostly women and children, it is said.

LOOKS BAD FOR BRIDEGROOM ON EVE OF MARRIAGE

It looks as if there might be a slight delay in the wedding arrangements of Lawrence Downs, a rather good-looking chap, who told Deputy Sheriff Williams when he was placed under arrest at Portland on Wednesday, that he was to be married next Monday to a young lady of that town.

Downs is charged with being a party to the theft of a quantity of underwear, cigars and miscellaneous articles from the store of Charles S. Jordan at Raymond on the night of Aug. 16. It is alleged that several other youths accompanied Downs when the store was entered. All of these boys were indicted in York county in connection with breaks in the towns of Wells and North Berwick and later were put on probation there.

The local officers are now endeavoring to round up these boys in connection with the break in this county. Sheriff Wheeler left for Springfield, Mass., to get one of them who was held there at the request of the Portland authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Allen of Bellaire are rejoicing over the birth of a son, William Herbert.

Portsmouth, N. H., Saturday, February 4, 1922.

A Pessimistic Congressman.

Congressman Tinkham of Massachusetts made a speech in the House a few days ago which many will consider too pessimistic, and yet he touched upon some facts that are so plain as to be recognized by all. He said there is too much legislation dictated by groups and "blocs," many of these being composed of minorities, and too much disregard of principle, courage and unselfish devotion to the public weal; in short, too much demagogy.

Mr. Tinkham said his speech might perhaps properly be entitled "The progress of crime, social disintegration or degeneracy of the capital of a great nation." He then went on to say that one of the causes of this phenomenon was the character of the legislation passed in the last few years by Congress. He declared that during these years Congress had in too many instances surrendered itself and its power for the making of laws "subserviently and docilely to the will of others and acted the demagogue for selfish purposes as never before." That is a pretty serious indictment, but Mr. Tinkham went on: "The people have seen an abject and obedient Congress pass laws of profound importance dictated to it by liberally financed and highly organized minorities outside of Congress, sometimes for the purely personal economic ends of the minorities, sometimes sumptuary laws from a sectarian source, sometimes laws dictated by 'blocs' or minorities within Congress itself for purely selfish class purposes, or purposes purely of reprisal. Laws passed under those conditions cannot help lessening the obedience to the laws themselves which are so imposed, and in turn to all laws."

While not all will regard the matter as seriously as does this member of the body under criticism, the truth of much that he said will be recognized by those who have kept the run of events not only in Congress, but in other legislative halls throughout the country, for none needs to be told that demagogy is not confined to Congress, but is to be found all the way from the national capitol down to the smallest city council. Mr. Tinkham regards the drift as very dangerous.

Much that he said was directly in line with what this paper has called attention to more than once—the danger arising from group action in politics for selfish purposes. This is a danger which is as great at the polls as in the halls of legislation. If matters in Congress are as bad as represented by this member they are bad enough, but guilt does not rest upon that body alone. There are vast numbers of voters who are governed by selfish motives when casting their ballots, and these must share the responsibility when there are found among legislators men who ought not to be there.

Demagogy is confined to no party and to no one legislative body. It is altogether more prevalent than it ought to be and the people have to suffer the consequences, but it must not be forgotten that they are at least partly to blame. When unfit men are placed in office through seeking after selfish ends on the part of voters the result is apt to be just what Congressman Tinkham complains of—"subserviency to the will of others," followed by the practice of demagogy to the detriment of the public interests.

It is possible that Mr. Tinkham is unduly alarmed, but it cannot be denied that he has good basis for much that he says. It is a subject that may well command the attention of the people, from which Congress and all other legislative bodies are drawn, and it will be well for the people to remember that "A stream cannot rise higher than its source."

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock for boys and at 4 o'clock for High School students, the Life of the "World's Greatest Athlete" will be told in connection with the regular Sunday meeting. Last Sunday there were 78 present and this Sunday the 100 mark is to be reached.

Friday was a busy day at the Y. M. C. A. in all departments, and especially in the work with boys. The newsboy's club enjoyed the shower baths at 4 o'clock, the Junior Bible Class supper at 5.30, Bible Class at 6 o'clock, Friday Night Boys' Gospel Meeting, at 6.30, were all largely attended. The Sunday School Athletic League group manifested a great deal of interest in their competitive games.

The Thursday night Board of Directors' meeting was well attended. The enthusiasm was at its height. The several standing committees gave very encouraging reports and the men adjourned after a two-hour session to meet again on Monday, Feb. 6, at 7.30 p. m. E. L. Paterson, president of the Association, and C. W. Walker, Vice-president, attended the monthly meeting of the State Y. M. C. A. committee at Concord yesterday.

Senior Bible Class supper at 6 Monday night. Mr. W. H. Slayton will be the teacher.

Miss Helen F. Adams, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Edward H. Adams, has entered the Bay Path Institute at Springfield, Mass. Miss Adams was graduated from Kent's Hill Seminary last June and is later to take up teaching.

MASONIC HOME NOTES

Judge Edward H. Adams of this city will be the speaker at the regular Sunday night service at the home tomorrow evening, Feb. 5 at 6 o'clock. Mr. Adams has made a special study in past years of the life and characteristics of the Civil War President of the United States, Abraham Lincoln, and on this occasion will take for his subject, "The Faith of Lincoln in God" and as the speaker is well and favorably known to all of Portsmouth, and a member of the Masonic fraternity, there will be the usual large attendance on hand at the appointed hour to enjoy this special talk.

Manager Hunt has announced Great Bay smelts and plenty of them, fried family style, together with a special desert called "Esquino chocolate ice cream bars, made special by the Coon Ice Cream Company of this city. The service will be carried out by a committee composed of Benjamin Bean, Charles A. Lear, Ralph W. Morrison, and Frank Lutz.

After the regular service, Wor F. J. Philbrick will give a Victrola concert. Mr. Philbrick has one of the finest collection of records of good music in the city and all should plan to attend.

NEWS FROM THE ATLANTIC HEIGHTS

Judge Edward H. Adams gave an address at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Atlantic Heights school Friday evening.

OUR YARD LEADS ON LOW COST OF PRODUCTION

The Chamber of Commerce through its industrial committee, has discovered that the Portsmouth navy yard leads all others in the matter of efficient operation and management of the industrial shops. This information should prove of timely interest to the friends of the Portsmouth yard.

The importance of reducing overhead expenditures is constantly stressed by the Navy Department and its bureau in order to make available more funds for the operation of the fleet at sea. Portsmouth's average ration of overhead charges to productive labor is 77.8 per cent; the other yards range from 86.8 per cent to 103.8 per cent while the average rate of the seven other yards is 101.9 per cent, a difference in favor of Portsmouth of 24.1 per cent.

The figures pertaining to hull work which is one of the most important activities in submarine construction, show Portsmouth to be still further in the lead in this important detail. The rate at Portsmouth for all branches of hull work is the lowest 75.5 per cent; the average rate for all other yards is 108.8 per cent, showing Portsmouth leading the other yards by 33 1-3 per cent.

Lower overhead costs mean that a larger percentage of the money expended went to actual productive labor for the repair and construction of the fleet. In other words it means that the officers, superintendents, foremen, leading men, mechanics and all others gave their best efforts for each minute of working time with the least amount of burden, in either lost time, or unnecessary supervision. The interest of each individual was applied with an intelligent understanding of the fact that efficient work at a lower cost meant more work for his plant and a better servic to his country with a consequent steady employment for himself. A further explanation of this outstanding superiority meant that the local mechanics are descended largely from generations of shipbuilders having pride in the yard and its reputation.

An authority on submarine construction has said of the Portsmouth workmen that they represent a high class of labor, mainly native born and possessing educational and trained advantages obtainable in the vicinity of Portsmouth; and that this fact has a special bearing on the question of production from a given design the most superior and efficient boat at a minimum of cost. This should be interesting news to the workmen of the yard, to the supervisors and to the officers in charge, as well as to the citizens of this community.

NAVY YARD NEWS & NAVY NOTES

Calls Attention to the Law

It appears that the order regarding the wearing of parts of uniforms of the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps is not a new one and is explained in the following circular issued by Capt. N. E. Irwin, Commandant of the local yard to the heads of departments, in which he calls attention to the United States Statues at Large, relative to the matter.

"Sec. 8. That section 125 of the Act entitled 'An Act for making further and more effectual provisions for the national defense and for other purposes,' approved June 3, 1916, shall hereafter be in full force and effect as originally enacted, notwithstanding anything contained in the Act entitled 'An Act permitting any person who has served in the United States Army, Navy or Marine Corps in the present war to retain his uniform and personal equipment and to wear the same under certain conditions,' approved February 28, 1918."

"Sec. 125. Protection of the Uniform. It shall be unlawful for any person not an officer or enlisted man of the United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, to wear the duly prescribed uniform of the United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, or any distinctive part of such uniform, or a uniform any part of which is similar to a distinctive part of the duly prescribed uniform of the United States Army, Navy or Marine Corps.

Any person who offends against the provisions of this section shall, on conviction, be punished by a fine not exceeding $300 or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

4. All officers and supervisory force will see that the above law is enforced within the limits of this Station, and will make a special report of repeated cases of its violation.

N. E. IRWIN,
Captain, U. S. Navy, Commandant.

Ordered to Newport

Captain W. W. Ashurst U. S. M. C. who has been making his home in Portsmouth while in charge of the marine guard that is guarding the mails in and out of Boston, has been ordered to Newport, R. I.

Not Built at This Yard

The six submarines S-30 to 35, which have been rejected by the Navy Department, were not built at the local navy yard, but were private contracts at Bridgeport. The trouble with the crankshaft was quickly recognized and all of the S type built at this yard were equipped with heavier shafts and have not given any bother. The submarines when they return to the east coast will come to this yard for docking, and possibly be rebuilt here.

Six Submarines Rejected

Six of the latest type submarines stationed on the Pacific Coast, the S-30 to S-35, inclusive, have been rejected by the Navy Department on account of faulty crankshafts. They will be sent to New London, Conn., from Mare Island. They will leave the Pacific in pairs, the first two to depart the S-30 and the S-33, due to start without convoy March 15. This will be the first time submarines have attempted the 6000-mile voyage without convoy, according to navy officials. The others will leave two at a time at intervals.

"Accounting Night"

The members of the Accounting Dept. of USNy. 31 held a party at the navy yard on Friday evening, which was a decided novelty and which proved a most popular idea with all those fortunate enough to be present. The entire Accounting force were in attendance, and the party was augmented by several invited guests, including former employes of the office.

The use of the yard Reading Rooms and bowling alleys were granted to the party by the Commandant. Upon arrival, a bowling match was contested between the Supervisory force and the Clerks. The Clerks knew too much about the game, and when the smoke cleared away, and the adding machines had functioned, it was discovered that the Supervisors had "taken the count" the score standing Clerks 1337, Supervisors 1244, a margin of 93 pins. Following this match the party adjourned to the banquet hall where a lunch consisting of sandwiches, cake, ice cream, fruit punch, coffee and cigars was served.

The final feature was a bowling match between girls' teams representing the different sections, and many of the girls showed exceptional skill. This match resulted: Cost section, 462; Time section, 448; Report section, 430. The girls rolled two strings with four girls to a team. Miss Ouellette had the high single string with 76, and for the two strings Miss Kirvan had 145, and Miss Garland 142. At the conclusion of the girl's match the party took the ferry for Portsmouth, all expressing emphatic approval of the party, and anticipating another similar event in the near future. As a result of the success of this affair, a girl's bowling league to roll at the yard alleys is being contemplated.

Ossipee in for Supplies

The Coast Guard cutter Ossipee put in to the local yard for supplies on Friday and later left to assist a schooner ashore off the Rockland coast.

New York Barge to Move It

A barge from New York will arrive at the yard next week to load a million and half pounds of metal purchased by the American Smelting and Refining Co. in a recent sale. The metal is the product of the former yard smelting plant.

KITTERY POINT

Kittery Point, Feb. 4—The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Charles T. Patey on Thursday afternoon with a good attendance present The meeting was very interesting. Mrs. Charles Sawyer, the president, gave a delightful talk which was very instructive. The secretary read a report. After the meeting a social time was enjoyed.

The Home and Foreign Missionary meeting of the First Christian church was held at the home of Mrs. Clarence Drew on Friday afternoon. A very interesting program was given. The subject was Japan. Several read articles upon the work being done by the missionaries. Letters were read by Mrs. John Graham from her daughter who has been a missionary in China the past five years. The letters were greatly enjoyed and appreciated by those present. At the close of the meeting, tea, sandwiches and cakes were served by the hostess, Mrs. John Graham and Mrs. George Colby were invited guests.

A very pleasant time was passed at the parsonage of the Congregational church on Thursday evening when the pastor, Rev. Mr. Gudham and Mrs. Graham entertained the two older classes of the Sunday school. Games were played and a musical program added to the success of the evening and all enjoyed the pleasant occasion. Refreshments of ice cream and cakes were served.

Albert Sprague of Atlantic Heights will conduct the music at the evening service at the First Christian church on Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Hutchins and Mrs. Edwin Johnson and son Richard spent Thursday with relatives in Kittery

Mrs. Ralph Seaward was called to Boston on Thursday by the serious illness of a relative.

Captain Horace Seaward is passing the week-end with his son, Cecil Seaward of Dover.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lynch of Boston are visiting relatives and friends in this town. Mrs. Lynch was formerly Miss Millie Frisbee.

First Congregational Church—11, Morning worship. Sermon by the pastor, Rev. John Graham 12.15, Sunday school. 7, Evening service. An illustrated lecture on Mohammedanism will be given. Every one is cordially invited.

First Christian Church—12.30, Sunday school. 2, Afternoon service. Sermon by Rev. W. T. Coffin. Text, 2 Kings 2-13. Subject, Where to Find God. 7, Evening service. The same subject is for Jan. 22 which was omitted. The service will be taken from the old hymn "Rock of Ages." Albert Sprague will have charge of the music.

PRESENTED WITH GIFTS ON BIRTHDAY

The Christian Service of the North church met at the home of Mrs. J. E. Waterman on Thursday afternoon at Kittery Depot for its regular meeting. In some way, one of the members discovered that it was the anniversary of the birth of the hostess, and after telling the fact to the others, it was planned to make this meeting a special occasion and one to be pleasantly remembered. After all had arrived and received cordial greeting, Mrs. Chas. Richardson in behalf of the assembled friends presented Mrs. Waterman with a cut glass sugar and creamer, as a token of the friendliness of her associates. Mrs. Waterman was taken greatly by surprise as she did not suppose any one knew it was her anniversary but she expressed much appreciation for the gifts and the kindly feeling which had prompted the participants to remember her.

A business session of the league was held and remarks were also made by Mrs. Lucius H. Thayer. Sewing was done for a colored school in the south and not a little work was accomplished. Piano and vocal solos gave added interest to the occasion.

Refreshments were served by the hostess who was also presented with a large birthday cake, handsomely frosted and ornamented with candles, the cake being the gift of the assembled friends.

CITY HALL NOTES

This morning a young school lad called on the mayor for information regarding the "Powder Magazine."

The Board of Public Works is rushing work on the water works extension and extra men have been employed.

An effort is made to give work to those in need.

A committee from the Haven School Association called on the mayor this morning.

Every department of the city should comply with the wishes of the taxpayers this year. It is up to the men in charge to do their duty.

The mayor was called upon the most week to be at public and semi-public functions every night. On Wednesday evening he had three meetings and on Thursday three.

In a short time the city will announce plans for the sale of several buildings.

chairman and Mayor F. W. Hartford received the greatest number of votes of the several placed in nomination and on motion he was elected by the secretary casting one ballot. Mayor Hartford who came in while the voting was going on took the chair and said that while he was grateful for the honor, he felt that somebody else who had more time to give to the work could be chairman, but the meeting held to their first choice.

Mr. H. F. Sherwood, General Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce had the greater number of votes for secretary and he was elected by the meeting authorizing the chairman to cast one vote for him. John M. McPhee was elected treasurer.

There were a good many names placed in nomination for members of the Executive committee and it was decided to take the first twenty-two and to send their names to the general committee for them to elect by ballot ten members to act. The nominations in the order of the number of votes they received are: Mrs. Mary I. Wood, R. L. Costello, Rev. Alfred Gooding, Ernest L. Chaney, Mrs. L. H. Thayer, Capt. S. S. Sands, W. H. Slayton, R. C. Margeson, Gustave Peyser, Albert Hislop, Dr. S. F. A. Pickering, William E. Marvin, Miss Georgine Moses, Rev. L. H. Thayer, Miss Martha S. Kimball, Rev. Isaac Higginbotham, Alexander Billbruck, F. A. Belden, F. M. Sise, D. F. Borthwick, Leo T. Gray, Miss Alice Mildrain.

The meeting was especially interesting and it was six o'clock before adjournment was taken. There was a live interest taken by apparently every one of the upwards of a hundred people present and the meeting brought out the fact that there is a strong interest in this big celebration and a desire to see that the 300th anniversary of the settlement of this city, as well as the state shall be properly observed.

At the meeting a historical and a program committee were appointed and they are as follows. The committee selected to name these committees made their report through Chairman R. L. Costello and the meeting approved the selection which follows:

Historical—Rev. Alfred Gooding, G Ralph Leighton, D. F. Borthwick John H. Bartlett, Arthur H. Locke, Rev. L. H. Thayer, Mrs. W. D. Walker Miss Helen Pearson, Miss Edith Brewster, Miss Priscilla S. Heffenger.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Editor:—Have been told that there is talk of a physician for the schools. Please tell through the columns of your paper just what the physician is to do. Is he to treat children free gratis or simply tell them they are sick, which their parents would probably know, and the tax payers to have unnecessary expense. The same applies to dentist for schools.

ECONOMY.

There is talk but the matter has not reached the city council. When it does, let the citizens come forward.—Editor.

INDICT SEVEN FOR VIOLATION CIVIL SERVICE

Chicago, Feb. 4.—Indictments against seven officials and former officials of Chicago, charging violation of the civil service law through sale of subscriptions to political newspapers backed by the city administration and tickets to a picnic given by a political faction headed by Mayor William Hale Thompson were reported today by a special county grand jury.

WALTER L. BROWN, JR., NOW PLANT MANAGER AT GLOUCESTER, MASS.

Walter L. Brown, Jr., who has been in charge of the Gloucester Electric Company's plant since the death of General Manager Ernest L. Munger, was yesterday elected to the position permanently by the board of directors, William H. Jordan, F. A. Parker of this city, and Messrs. Prichard, Morse and Clough of Boston. Mr. Brown assumed charge of the local plant today in his permanent position.

Mr. Brown came here from Portsmouth, N. H., six years ago as assistant superintendent to Mr. Munger. When Mr. Munger was made general manager, he was advanced to the position of superintendent. The new manager is a native of Portsmouth and was employed for 15 years with the electric company in that place before coming to Gloucester.—Gloucester Daily Times.

TWELVE WERE INITIATED

DUFFY ON STAND FOR THREE HOURS IN OSBORNE CASE

Says Drinks Passed Freely On Eve of Wedding--Declares Osborne Had Nothing to Do With Separation--Three Other Witnesses Heard

William J. Duffy of Brooklyn, Mrs. Margaret Watson of this city, Alfred Brown and Andro Cameron of Gloucester were the witnesses heard on the defense side in the $25,000 alienation suit against Thomas Mott sborne at Concord on Friday. Duffy was on the stand for three hours and declared in direct and cross examination that Mr. Osborne had nothing whatever to do with the estrangement between husband and wife and had not used his influence in any way against the plaintiff, Julia Mullane.

At the conclusion of the examination of Duffy, court took a recess until next Monday afternoon at two o'clock. It is expected that the case may go to the jury on Tuesday or Wednesday. Juror James J. Greenough of Newington, whose dislocated shoulder gave his associated a vacation Thursday afternoon, returned to his seat this morning with his arm in a sling.

Robert Cameron, one of the Duffy-Mullane wedding party, who was a witness on Thursday, completed his testimony Friday morning.

Cross examination brought out the fact that he was an inmate of a New York prison when he first met Mr. Osborne, and that he used the latter's name as a reference in securing a situation in Portsmouth. Cameron corroborated the testimony of others in the wedding party that the sudden marriage of Duffy and Miss Mullane was because they thought the couple was better matched than Duffy and Helen Healey, whose marriage was scheduled on the following day.

Lt. Austin H. McCormick, who was executive officer of the Portsmouth naval prison when Duffy was a member of the crew, but who now is a member of the faculty of Bowdoin college, testified that he sent Duffy to the social gathering which resulted in his marriage to Miss Mullane, with the understanding that it was a "bachelor party" in honor of Duffy's approaching marriage with Miss Healey. McCormick said Duffy was very depressed the next day.

Mrs. Margaret Watson, another of the wedding party, left before its object was fulfilled and could not remember much of the conversations or happenings because she was so excited at the time. Asked why she was excited, she replied, "Isn't a wedding enough to excite any one?"

Rev. Father James J. Rice of Kittery said refused to marry Duffy and Miss Mullane because they were not within his jurisdiction and that he advised them not to be married by a justice of the peace.

Duffy said in his testimony that he went to Portsmouth first as Mr. Osborne's chauffeur but a little later enlisted in the navy but a little later was a chief yeoman at the time of his marriage. He admitted that he "had gone around with" Julia Mullane for several months, but said that his intentions towards her was not serious as to contemplate matrimony. He said that he had never introduced her as his intended wife, and that while he had given her two rings, he did not intend either of them to be considered as an engagement ring.

After he had met Miss Healey and took her to Boston on a motor trip, he and Julia drifted apart. He understood she was accepting the attentions of an other young man and he himself had asked Miss Healey's father for her hand in marriage.

Duffy described the evening party which ended in his marriage to Miss Mullane and said that while he was able to walk and talk, he was so drunk that he did not realize what he was doing when he took part in the wedding ceremony. Duffy said he was given a tumbler full of alcohol and grape juice as soon as he reached the party, that drinks were offered him after that upstairs and downstairs and in various rooms, and that he "took all as fast as they came."

The annulment of his marriage to Miss Mullane was first suggested Duffy testified by one of his friends at the prison and not by Mr. Osborne, nor did the latter urge Duffy to go ahead with the proceedings. Duffy acknowledged that he got Miss Mullane to assent to the annulment by promising that he would marry her again later in accordance with the rules of their church. He said that he did not intend to keep that promise when he made it, but he thought he was justified in getting out of his scrape because of the means which were used in getting him into it.

Duffy testified that Mr. Osborne visited but once the home at Atlantic Heights of Duffy and Helen Healey after their marriage and that Mr. Osborne had no reason for favoring Miss Healey over Miss Mullane, and as a matter of fact he did not.

The facts as to Duffy's marriage to Miss Healey in Brooklyn, N. Y., first by the deputy city clerk and later by a priest, were brought out, and Duffy volunteered that one reason why he wanted to do this was because Miss Healey, then employed as a cashier in a Portsmouth restaurant, was being tormented by Miss Mullane, who would visit the place and make sarcastic remarks to and about Miss Healey.

A large photograph of Duffy which he gave to Miss Mullane and a number of snapshots showing Duffy and Miss Mullane together were introduced by the plaintiff's counsel as evidence in connection with the cross-examination of Duffy.

Duffy testified he was 35 years old and that his address was Brooklyn N. Y. He testified that he came to Portsmouth as a chauffeur for Osborne and later enlisted in the navy as a first class yeoman. He said he met Julia Mullane as a dance hall where she was a ticket taker.

He further testified that he saw her two and three times a week, but that they never met by appointment. He said he was not paying any serious attention to her, admitting that he told her she was a "nice girl and good company," but never introduced her to any one as his intended wife.

The witness testified that he gave her a diamond ring, but that it was a gift and not an engagement ring.

In speaking of Helen Healey of Manchester, his present wife, he was with her every time he had a chance, he said. He called at her home three and four times a week and when she worked in Manchester he called on her often. The witness said he asked her father, George F. Healey, for permission to marry his daughter. He said I was granted and plans were made for the wedding.

Robert Cameron, first witness to be examined today, testified under cross-examination by Ernest R. Guptill, that Julia Mullane Duffy had nothing to do with getting Duffy drunk on the night of the wedding. He said that Duffy, although drunk, could walk alone put on his hat and coat, told Julia's sister to get a taxi big enough to carry the whole crowd, climbed into the car without help and walked from the automobile to Judge Cole's in Kittery without assistance.

Guptil asked Cameron: "Then you were all drunk?"

The witness replied: "I was not drunk."

"Feeling pretty good?" asked Guptil.

The witness: "I have felt pretty good with you lots of times, but wasn't drunk."

This statement ended the questioning concerning liquor at the wedding party.

Cameron in his testimony stated that he was of the opinion that Duffy thought a great deal of Julia and would not deny that at the Cameron wedding a month previous, Duffy had said:

"Gee, Jule, I wish it was you and I."

It was brought out during Cameron's testimony that following the wedding of Julia Mullane and Duffy in Kittery the bride kissed her husband and that a series of kissing bees followed in which osculatory caresses were passed around rather freely.

Austin H. MacCormick, now a member of the faculty of Bowdoin college, and at the time of the marriage of Duffy and his first wife, second in command to Thomas Mott Osborne at Portsmouth naval prison, testified that although he knew of the attempt to get Duffy over to the Lewis home on the marriage night, he did not know of the intended marriage.

He said he saw Duffy two days after the marriage and that Duffy looked 20 years older, remarking that he had "acted like a dog," wanted to jump into the river and declared he had never double-crossed anyone before as he had Helen Healey by marrying Julia Mullane.

Other witnesses who testified were Andre Cameron and Alfred Brown of Gloucester, Mass., and Mrs. Margaret Watson, formerly Miss Morgan. She declared that on the night of the wedding Duffy's friends asked for the loan of her mother's wedding ring for use in the ceremony and that she got angry, leaving the house.

HELD FOR MURDER IN RHODE ISLAND

Mrs. Ruth McCaw, a former resident of this city who was married in Bristol, R. I., and now held in two indictments one charging murder and the other attempt to kill, appealed before Judge Hahn in the superior court at Providence on Friday and pleaded not guilty to both charges.

She was held without bail on the murder charge, as is customary. On the other, surety was fixed at $5000. She was accompanied by Hon. John J. Fitzgerald, leading criminal lawyer of the State of Rhode Island. The trial will start this month.

She is alleged to have murdered her step-daughter, Elsie B. McCaw, and he attempt to kill the girl's brother, Leon McCaw.

Elsie B. McCaw died in Bristol April 2. Because she was a cripple and suffering from paralysis, diagnosis of her fatal illness was impossible, it was said. She had been at the Rhode Island Hospital for treatment. Doctors here were impressed with her case, they declared, because when no medicine was given the patient she appeared to improve.

She left this city five years ago and her first husband was William Seymour a farmer. He died two years ago and she married Samuel B. McCaw a Bristol grocer.

Mrs. F. M. Kimball and Miss Ethel Bragdon of York are to sail on the "Empress of France" from New York on Feb. 11 on a Mediterranean cruise. They first go to Spain and later with a touring party will visit the Holy Land, Paris and London and return home via Montreal and Quebec.

MIDWINTER DANCE GIVEN TO CLASS BY MISS MOSES

Miss Georgine Moses gave her mid winter dancing reception last evening at Freeman's Hall to her High School class, and there were 200 or more young people present and all derived unlimited pleasure from the affair.

Whitman's orchestra furnished music and there were many dainty gowns worn, making the scene on the floor a very pretty one. It was an invitation party and the gallery was filled with parents and friends of the pupils. At intermission refreshments were served.

SURPRISE PARTY GIVEN MISS HAM

Miss Gertrude Ham, a student at the business college, Salem, Mass., was completely surprised upon her return home Friday evening to find the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Ham, No. 726 Middle road, well filled with young people of the Court Street Christian church who made this unexpected visit in recognition of her 20th birthday anniversary.

The lower rooms of the home were prettily decorated and the dining room table was well covered with good things and all were filled with good cheer and sociability. The pastor, Rev. L. B. Folsomsbee, who was among the guests, in behalf of the parents of Miss Ham, presented her with a gold wrist watch. Miss Louise Pray in behalf of the Young People's Society, presented Miss Ham with a gold mesh purse containing coins and a gold pencil.

Th recipient was much surprised and pleased with the gifts and the kindly feeling which had prompted their bestowal. Music added to the evening's enjoyment and later all left for their homes after wishing Miss Ham many more such happy anniversary celebrations in the future.

HOSPITAL GUILD SEWING MEETING

The Portsmouth Hospital Guild held its monthly all day sewing meeting Friday at the North church chapel with thirty in attendance. At the session in the afternoon the routine business was transacted and the amendments to the by-laws adopted. The report of the work of the last meeting was given and told that 118 crash towels, 35 huck towels, 12 flannelette towels, 6 slips and 3 shirts were made at the last all-day sewing meeting. The visiting committee, Mrs. George McCarthy and Mrs. William Kelley reported favorably on their visits to the hospital and spoke in great praise of the work of the superintendent, Miss McLennon.

Mrs. Harry H. Foote and Mrs. Hobbs were chosen as the next visiting committe for the month.

A basket lunch was enjoyed at noon and coffee served by Mrs Gustave Peyser's team.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Ellen A. Severance

The death of Mrs. Ellen A. Severance widow of Ivory Severance occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ernest L. Chaney No. 98 High street, Friday.

Mrs. Severance was a native of Milo Me., and was 83 years of age. She had been in failing health for some time and suffered an ill turn Thursday from which she failed to rally. She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Chaney with whom she resided, Mrs. Adelaid Tucker of Oakland, Cal., Mrs. C. W. Lang of Danforth, Me., and Mrs. E. M. Torrey of Bangor, Me., also one sister, Mrs. Abbie M. Rowell of Kittery and a brother E. H. Sargent of Hanna, Wyoming.

The remains were taken to Sangerville, Me., for services and interment. Arrangements were in charge of J. Verne Wood.

Benjamin F. Downing

Benjamin F. Downing passed away early this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Shapleigh, Kennard's Corner, Eliot, at the advanced age of 92 years, 4 months and 24 days. Mr. Downing was born at Fox Point, Newington, N. H., Sept. 9th, 1829, and is the last of his family; since the age of 8 years has been a resident of Eliot. He was the oldest resident of that town and holder of the Post cane. His wife died in 1889. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Fred Shapleigh with whom he has made his home for the past nine years, and Mrs. F. W. Hartford of Portsmouth, and four sons Henry B. and George W. both of Portsmouth, Edward P. of Middleboro, Mass., and Charles L. of Williamstown Mass. A son Benj. F. Jr., died in April 1888 and a daughter Emma E. died in 1893. Thirteen grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren survive.

Mr. Downing was for a number of years an expert boat builder on the navy yard. He was also engaged in contract work on construction in New York when a young man and did much work in Portsmouth. He possessed a fund of information and was until the last a powerful man physically and mentally. He possessed friends by the score among both young and old. "Uncle Ben" as he was known by his intimates, was of the type that made life more cheerful for all with whom he met. For years he was a familiar sight upon our streets walking erect and with a firm step with his large frame—he caused many to look at him with admiration.

Funeral services will be a the residence of Mrs. Fred Shapleigh, Kennard's Corner, Monday at 2 p. m. Friends invited.

Y. M. H. A. REORGANIZED

The Y. M. H. A. of Portsmouth reorganized Thursday night. A meeting was held at the Synagogue with many of the Jewish element present. Great enthusiasm was shown. The following officers were elected:

MARINES GET IN TROUBLE AT DOVER

Lengthy Session of Court There on Thursday Morning.

Much time was given to the hearing of two marines in the Dover municipal court on Thursday when Edward Hayes and Hans Johnson appeared on the charge of being drunk on Central avenue at midnight. Asst. Marshal McKonough told the court that he ordered them to their room and they used bad language. They were placed under arrest and with Officer McCaffery they took the marines to the police station, having trouble on the way.

Hans Johnson testified: Corporal Hayes and I were out walking around the city last night about 12.30 o'clock, we were going back to the New American hotel when plain clothes men came along and we did not know that they were officers; we were not using any bad language.

When cross examined he said they were in the Royal restaurant about 11 o'clock; I had not had a thing to drink during the evening except soda and coffee; when we came out of the Royal restaurant we walked about the city; I did not notice that one of the officers had a badge on the outside of his overcoat; one of them showed me his badge; I will admit that I objected to being brought to the police station; I know what it means to resist an officer; we were not looking for trouble; when I was in the custody of the officers I don't know what my idea was for telling Hayes not to go with them; the officers told me once to go to my hotel; I don't know that a pint of liquor was found in my room in the hotel.

Hayes said that he did not care to testify in his own defense. The court found them both guilty upon the evidence and said, it seems to me that you were pretty decently treated by the officers, you admit that you were told to go to your hotel, you have testified that you did not have a drink of liquor I don't think that it is any particular enjoyment for the officers to bring you in. They have testified that you were both staggering and that they smelled liquor off you. The best way to get along in this world is to meet people half way and play fair and you know what that means. The court then ordered each of the respondents to pay a fine of $10 and costs total $15.62 each and to stand committed until paid.

Hayes was then arraigned on another complaint, charging him with the larceny of an apron, the property of Miss Williams. He pleaded guilty.

Solicitor said that the facts in the case were that when the officers were taking Hayes to the station that he dropped a bundle which contained an apron which had the name of Miss Williams upon it. The officers picked the bundle up and took it to the station. The apron with other aprons of the witnesses at the Royal Cafe are kept in a booth and it is thought that Hayes took th apron from the booth. Hayes told the assistant marshal that he had bought th capron for a friend of his. The apron, the owner tells me cost $1.50 when new. The court ordered the case continued on the payment of the costs $8.25. The respondents each settled.

"WHAT LOVE WILL DO" AND "CHICKENS" AT OLYMPIA TONIGHT

Johnnie Walker and Edna Murphy in a Fox special, "What Love Will Do" together with Douglas MacLean in a Paramount comedy drama of love down on the farm entitled "Chickens" head the big double feature bill offered at the Olympia Theatre for the last time at six-thirty and eight-thirty tonight. The International News Weekly is also shown on the same bill. A series of exceptionally strong pictures has been booked for next week at the Olympia, including Will Rogers in Sol Smith Russell's famous play, "A Poor Relation," on Monday and Tuesday, together with Marie Prevost in "Don't Get Personal" on the same bill. On Wednesday and Thursday the feature picture will be Betty Compson, the famous heroine of "The Miracle Man" in the big Paramount special, "The End of the World," and on the same bill, Mack Sennett's latest picture, "Ship Ahoy." On Friday and Saturday the features will be May MacEvoy in "Morals," adapted from the stage play, "The Morals of Marcus," and on the same bill "Buck" Jones in a thrilling western production, entitled "Riding with Death." The prices at the Olympia never change, and are always 20c at matinees and 20 and 25c at night. Three performances are given daily, at two, seven and nine p. m.

$75,000 FOR WHITE PINE BLISTER

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3—The Director of the Budget recommended to congress today the appropriation of $75,000 to be expended for the further investigation and control of the white pine blister rust in the eastern white pine area and $150,000 for similar work in the Western Sites. A bill carrying the appropriations for this work was introduced in the senate last month by Senator Henry W. Keyes of the Department of Agriculture and with Gen. Dawes, the Director of the Budget. Now that Senator Keyes has the department back of his bill, its early passage is anticipated.

HARD GAME EXPECTED WITH LITTLE HIGH

A battle royal is expected this evening when the high school basket ball five will meet the Edward Little high of Auburn, Me., at Freeman's hall. Two weeks ago the locals won from the Maine team on their own floor by a single point in a game that the Lewiston sporting writers claim was the fastest that has been played there for two years.

The Maine team which last year was rated as one of the best in New England, will come here tonight to win if possible, and they have shown a big improvement in two weeks. The locals on the other hand while they have won all of their games have not been running as true to form as could be expected. They have fallen down on shooting fouls, a very essential matter in these days and at one time I looked as though they were laboring under the delusion of over confidence.

Which ever team wins it will be a hard fought game and one that the fans will get good return for the time and money.

MERRY PARTY HELD IN STATE ARMORY

Ladies' Aux. American Legion Entertain Large Crowd Thursday Night.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the American Legion held a whist and dancing party Thursday evening at the Memorial hall on Parrott avenue, which proved a most successful and enjoyable occasion.

The affair begun at 8 o'clock and lasted until midnight. There was a good attendance and the guests enjoyed cards or dancing, just which diversion they cared for the more. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Misses Mudgett and James.

The favors for whist were won as follows: Ladies' first, Mrs. Philip Badger; gentlemen's first, Clyde Robinson. The whist favors were won as follows: Ladies' first, Mrs. M. B. Willette; ladies' second, Mrs. Spinney; consolation, Miss Elizabeth Mooney; gentlemen's first Leon Roberts; gentlemen's second, E. A. Weeks, jr.; consolation, Mrs. MacGilvary.

Refreshments of ice cream and assorted cake were served all.

The committee in charge of the affair was as follows:

Dancing—Mrs. Nelson T. Wright, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Leah O'Brien and Mrs. Clyde Robinson.

Cards—Mrs. Edith O'Hara and Mrs. L. E. Blunt.

A series of parties is to be given under the same management and each is expected to be equally as successful as that of last evening.

CITY CLUB NOTES

The spelling bee Tuesday evening brought out a large assembly. Fifty participated in the Bee under the captaincy of Mrs. Horace Wiggin and Mrs. Florence Cummings. Miss Alice Mudgram and Mrs. John L. Mitchell carried off the honors on their respective sides. Much merriment was occasioned by the old-fashioned costumes dating from several different periods of fashion. Miss Nanette Hayes was chairman of the committee and the Bee was the idea of Mrs. Mary I. Woods.

The regular monthly meeting of the club was held on Thursday afternoon. Many details of importance resulting from the largely increased membership were successfully disposed of, and at the conclusion of the business session tea was served to the members remaining for the social hour.

During the month of February the club is planning several activities in addition to the regular meeting. On February 9 a musicale will be given under the chairmanship of Miss Grace Sides; on February 14, there will be a valentine card party in charge of Miss O. E. Wright; and on February 25 will occur the monthly supper. Following the supper, Commander Kintner, Construction Corps, U. S. N., will speak on the Panama Canal.

Aches and Pains Of Rheumatism

Sometimes They Are Unbearable.

There are weather conditions that make rheumatism worse. They are not the same in the cases of all persons. Some rheumatics suffer more in dry, warm weather than in moist, cold weather, but all suffer more or less all the time.

The cause of rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood, affecting the muscles and joints, causing aches and pains. Hence the blood must have attention for permanent results in the treatment of this disease.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has given entire satisfaction in thousands of cases. Do not fail to try it.

PAINS SO BAD WOULD GO TO BED

Two Women Tell How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Stopped Their Suffering

Iron Mountain, Mich. — "I had terrible pains every month and at times had to go to bed on account of them. I saw your advertisement and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with very good results. I can work all day long now at my sick time. You may use these facts as a testimonial and I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends."—Mrs. A. H. GARLAND, 218 E. Brown St., Iron Mountain, Michigan.

Xenia, Ohio.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of my abdomen that I could not lie quietly in bed. I suffered for about five years that way and I was not regular either. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women, so I decided to try it. It surely has helped me a lot, as I have no pains now and am regular and feeling fine."—Mrs. MARY DALE, Route 7, Xenia, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for women's ailments. It is especially adapted to relieve women. If you suffer as did Mrs. Garland or Mrs. Dale, you should give this well-known medicine a thorough trial.

WOODBURY SCHOOL

The Woodbury school held their second Whist Party and Social on Thursday night.

The principal speaker of the evening was Supt. William Slayton. He spoke for half an hour on the needed improvements of the school. He discussed the heating, lighting and the improvements to be made upon the playground. He expressed his satisfaction in the formation of a Parent-Teacher Association.

Whist was played for two hours. The ladies' first prize, a coffee percolator, was won by Miss Edith Grant. The man's first prize, a necktie, was won by Mr. Roy Woodward. The other prizes, 5 lbs. of sugar each, were won by Mrs. William Knight and Mr. Lawrence Carkin.

After whist, social games were enjoyed. Music was furnished by the Victrola and dancing was enjoyed by all.

Cakes and ice cream were served, the cakes being made and donated by the parents. A cake marked with the name "Woodbury School" was donated by Miss Gertrude Hutton. This cake was sold for a high price made by auction.

The committee in charge were Mr. and Mrs. McClintock, Mrs. Furber, Mrs. Sibley, Mrs. Knight and Miss Hughes.

TRAVELING BAD AFTER RAIN

The heavy rain on Thursday made the traveling about the city and especially the outskirts the worst of the winter. It was especially bad outside of the city and only sleighs with two horses were able to get through. With promise of cold weather for the last of the week the traveling should greatly improve.

ENTERTAINED THE CANOE CLUB

The members of the Canoe club were pleasantly entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hersom on Myrtle avenue. Whist occupied much of the time and at the conclusion of the game favors were awarded as follows: Ladies' first, Mrs. Frank Towle; gentlemen's first, Mr. Yeaton; ladies' consolation, Mrs. Fred Merrill; gentlemen's consolation, Clinton Pike. An inviting lunch of ham and chicken sandwiches, assorted cake and coffee was served. Games and dancing followed and an all a la hour all left for their homes, having enjoyed the evening to the utmost.

TOM MIX AT COLONIAL TONIGHT

Tom Mix, the demon cowboy, in the greatest picture he ever made, "The Night Horsemen," heads the bill offered at the Colonial Theatre on Friday and Saturday. "The Night Horsemen" is a sequel to Tom Mix's other big success, "The Untamed," and is founded on a magazine story, "Wild Geese." It is chock full of action, thrills and romance, with wild riding, startling feats of horsemanship, and Tom play like only Tom Mix can "pull." His famous horse and dog play important parts. On the same bill is the eighth episode of "Winners of the West," starring Art Accord, the great American history educational continued feature based on the lives of Kit Carson and John C. Fremont. The comedy is a two-reel Mack Sennett picture, "Fresh From the City," and the latest Kinograms News Weekly completes the bill. Three shows are given Saturday, at two, six-thirty and eight-thirty p. m. Prices at matinees are 15 and 25c and at night, 25 and 35c. No seats reserved. On Monday, February 6th, Paramount's big special production of "The Sheik" will commence a four-day engagement at the Colonial Theatre. Adapted from Edith M. Hull's widely read novel which is one of the "best sellers" of the year, this picture has smashed records in every city shown. It stars Rudolph Valentino the wonderful lover of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," who recently signed contracts for three years with the Paramount company, at a salary of $2,500 a week; and Agnes Ayres, as the beautiful young English girl who is captured by the desert chieftain and carried away to his tent at night. "The Sheik" will be surrounded by a strong program of short subjects, and Mr. W. D. Straffin of Boston has been engaged to interpret the pictures on the piano at the Colonial. "The Sheik" will be shown at regular prices, 15 and 25c at matinees, and 25 and 35c at night, no seats reserved. Next Friday and Saturday the attraction at the Colonial will be Richard Bartlemess of "Way Down East" in "Tol'able David," a First National special production.

LADIES' CIRCLE SERVES INVITING SUPPER IN UNIVERSALIST VESTRY

One hundred parishioners and friends of the Universalist society gathered at the church vestry Thursday evening to enjoy a supper served by the Ladies' Social Circle of th parish. The menu was cold ham, potato salad, assorted pies, doughnuts, rolls and coffee; also maple syrup served on snow, which was new to many of the patrons.

The committee in charge was Miss E. M. Niles, chairman, assisted by Mrs. J. Verne Woods, Miss Ella P. Lowd, Mrs. William Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Myla Redden and Mrs. A Leon Smith. Other members of the Circle acted as servers.

A business meeting followed in the evening, Miss Ella Lowd, president of the Circle presiding. The routine business was transacted and it was voted to have another food sale in the near future.

NEGROES IN FLORIDA IN 1528

Two Africans Were Members of Narvaez' Expedition of That Year, According to History.

The first record of negro slaves within the present boundaries of the United States is found in an account of the Spanish expedition of Narvaez to Florida in 1528, which included two negroes. But the negro was not in Florida to stay until 1565, when a few landed with Menendez' colonists. It is believed the Spaniards had negroes with them in their unfortunate colony of San Miguel de Gualdape in 1526, which J. J. Shea locates in the neighborhood of Jamestown, Va. H. H. Bancroft, in his "Arizona and New Mexico," makes it clear the negro was in some of the early exploration and missionary parties to that territory. Doubtless the negroes continued in the province until the Spaniards were driven out in 1560. ("Introduction of Negroes Into the United States," by C. A. Stakely, in Magazine of American History, November, 1891). The Treasurer, owned by the earl of Warwick, and a Dutch vessel brought slaves to Jamestown in 1619. The Treasurer is supposed to be the first slaver fitted out in America. The first American-built slaver was the ship Desire, a vessel of 120 tons, built at Marblehead in 1636. ("The American Slave Trade," by J. R. Spears.)

NOT ALWAYS EASY TO READ

At Certain Times Robert Louis Stevenson's Manuscript Is Said to Have Been "Weird."

Robert Louis Stevenson's handwriting was fairly legible when he felt well, although when he was not well his scrawl was distinctly weird. In his article on the genesis of "The Master of Ballantrae," he speaks of having been haunted by a story "conceived in Highland rain, in the blent of the smell of heather and bog plants, and with a mind full of the Athole correspondence and the memories of the domiciliate Justice."

Ingenious surmises have been made as to the meaning of the last words. Sir Graham Balfour now explains, according to the Westminster Gazette, that after many heads had been called into consultation he himself came to the conclusion that it should read "Chevalier de Johnstone." The interpretation may be correct, for in one of Stevenson's papers occurs the combination "brean." The late James Murray of the Oxford dictionary asked Stevenson what it meant. Stevenson replied that it was a misprint for "ocean."

When One Is Rich.

Possessions are synonymous with riches. One is rich who has great possessions. But possessions are many and varied. A person may have much money, and be very poor. A person may have little of the goods of this world and yet be rich. Possessions are both material and spiritual. Material riches of themselves can do little. No matter how much money a person has, that money alone cannot accomplish much. Money cannot buy love, friendship, mercy. Money cannot give its owner an amiable temperament, literary taste, or moral worth. Money for individuals collectively can accomplish nothing without mind and soul put with that money. Somebody must furnish these spiritual assets.—Grit.

That Word "Pigeon-English."

To the Chinese we owe the compound word, "pigeon-English," the childish dialect in use at Chinese ports between natives and American and English traders.

The Chinese use the word pigeon or "pidgin" to supply the place of English nouns unknown to them. Those ingenious orientals call a concert a "sing-song pidgin" and a conversation a "talkee pidgin."

With the increasing intercourse between the Chinese and English speaking persons, and with the progress of education in China, real English is taking the place of the "pidgin" variety. But "pigeon-English" still survives, especially in fiction and on the stage.

Crackers of Various Kinds.

There are various curiosities in the way of foreign crackers, or biscuit, as they are sometimes called. It may be remarked, by way of preface, that biscuit is French for "twice cooked," and is etymologically the same as the German zwieback. The Italians make all their crackers in this way, the varieties familiar to us not being in common use with them. Italian bakers save all their old bread and convert it into "biscuit" of this kind. For this reason the bread largely used in Italian and Sicilian restaurants is so made that pieces may be broken from the loaf without making a jagged end.—New York Herald.

Embarrassing, Very!

Our neighbor was a queer old bachelor, and, not having seen him out in his yard, I decided to investigate, writes a correspondent. Not finding him in the house, I went out to the barn, and there in the shadows I saw a body hanging from the rafters! I was so excited I ran for help. In five minutes the whole town had gathered there. I led the way into the barn and found it to be my neighbor's scarecrow, stored for the winter. And to make matters worse, the old gentleman drove up just then and wondered at all the company. I had to explain, and the laugh was on me.

HAD LINGO ALL THEIR OWN

Telephone Operators in the A. E. F. Employed Code That Baffled "Jerries" Listening In.

"Hello, Buckwheat. Naw, I don't want Broadway. Gimme Buckwheat. That you, Buckwheat. Well, why in — don't you answer? George Washington wants to talk to Harry Thaw and too sweet too."

A reviewer gone crazy?—not a bit of it; just the way the A. E. F. telephone operator at some headquarters told another operator at some other headquarters that Gen. So-and-So wanted to talk with Col. Somebody Else. Plain English wouldn't have done at all, because the chances were that some Boche who used to drive a brewery wagon on Avenue A was cutting in along the line waiting for an earful on the next American jump-off.

Even with such disguises as the above didn't always work, and the instance is related by Captain Lavine where a number of Choctaws or some other Indian tribe were used as operators and transmitted the messages in their inimitable native way and thereby ruined the hearing of four listening Jerries.

The following is a hectic bit of authorship that is typical and just a bit trite at present:

"To the northwest the marines met the kaiser's best marching forward 'mach Paris' in the full flush of victory, and turned them back—amazed, stupefied, demoralized.

"Donnerwetter! What has happened?

"The Americans had happened.

The peak had been reached. The Hun had been stopped. The world breathed again."—Chicago Evening Post.

NOW WE HAVE "CANARY JAZZ"

Six Thousand Birds, In Hold of Ship, Introduced New Music to New York Dancers.

"Canary jazz" is the latest in syncopated music to be introduced to the feet of dance lovers. It was tried out in the grand ballroom of the steamship George Washington.

The George Washington reached quarantine just after sundown the other night and was compelled to lay at anchor until the next morning, before proceeding to her Hoboken pier. Forced to spend another night at sea, the officers of the George Washington arranged a masked ball for the entertainment of cabin passengers. With Miss Regina Hailer, a dramatic soprano from Cleveland, Ohio, who has been singing abroad, Capt. Harold Cunningham led the grand march.

The jazz music from the ship's orchestra disturbed the slumbers of some six thousand canaries in the hold. The birds stood the music for a time and then started warbling themselves. The shrill notes of the yellow-coated songsters became real "raggy," and the musicians in the orchestra ceased their efforts. The dancers continued to glide around the ballroom to the bird music. It proved a great hit—and thus was born the "canary jazz."

Daugherty Won a Dollar.

The members of the President's cabinet are not always dolled up in frock coats and silk hats, and on their dignity. When they get together they are real human and sometimes act like schoolboys.

As they were flocking out of a recent meeting like schoolboys let loose Attorney General Harry Daugherty spied Representative "Nick" Longworth and challenged him to match a dollar. Harry won and brushed aside "Nick's" proposal to accept 90 cents in cash. "Nick, you're a wealthy man and I insist on the whole dollar," said Harry, and went away proudly jingling four quarters.

What Interests Londoners.

From an ancient arch of Old London bridge, built at the end of the Twelfth century, is to spring a new modern building which will tower far above all the London steeples and probably will be the highest building in London, not excepting the monument. Londoners, however, quite characteristically appear to take far more interest in the question of whether that relic of the ever famous and once so popular London bridge, the only recently discovered arch, can be saved, than in the height of the prospective skyscraper.

She Waited in Vain.

"I suppose it was a proud moment in Mrs. Gadder's life when she cast her first vote?"

"It was, indeed," said Mr. Gadder, "but something of a disappointment, too."

"Was her candidate defeated?"

"No, he was elected, but it was several weeks before Mrs. Gadder discovered that it isn't customary for a successful candidate to send a note of thanks for each vote received."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A Running Start.

Maurice and Billy are rivals in their school work. But Billy had received much the higher grade on an examination paper. As he turned triumphantly toward the young lady after the results were announced, she gave him what is commonly referred to as "a nasty look."

"Huh," the little red-haired rascal boasted, "I can make an uglier face than you."

"Well, you might try," she snapped, "and when you've got to start with."

P. A. C. BARN DANCE TO BE BIG AFFAIR

It is now practically assured that the P. A. C. Barn Dance will draw out one of the biggest crowds that ever gathered in Freeman's hall. This assurance is based on the tremendous advance sale of tickets. From all sections of the city, and from several near-by towns, has come an alarming call for tickets. The chairman of the dance committee, advises that he feels absolutely sure that many will be turned away from the hall on the night of the dance on account of inadequate room.

So every story has a morale—Don't wait to get tickets on the night of the dance, you might be disappointed. Get 'em now.

MARDEN'S CONCERT ORCHESTRA TONIGHT

Clara Wentworth Marden will offer another very fine concert program during the showing of the pictures tonight at Pierce Hall. This team certainly holds favor with the local dancers and lovers of good music and has never yet suffered in comparison with the many out of town orchestras that play this city. The dancers know just what to expect and are never disappointed. Tonight the pictures will start at 7.30 with dancing at the usual hour. Box office opens at 7. Concert will start with showing of pictures.

Just how little the city can be run on for 1922 is the problem that is receiving the attention of the Finance Committee of the City Council. Reduction in price of supplies will assist some.

83 YEARS OF AGE, AND FEELS YOUNG

Samuel Weston a Most Active Men for His Years.

Samuel Weston attained his eighty-second birthday on Friday at his home on State street and feeling as young as he did forty years ago. Mr. Weston is one of Portsmouth's most active citizens for his age and works every day.

He was born in England and passed some of his life there but has been in this country about 28 years. For over twenty years he was employed at the plants of the Jones and the Eldredge Brewing Companies. He was one of a family of nine sons, eight of whom are now living, the others all residing in England. When his eldest brother reached the age of 80 there were five of the brothers living whose ages were between seventy and eighty. One of the brothers died last year, and with the exception of the death of the parents this was the first death in the family for 45 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Weston celebrated their golden wedding on Christmas 1915. The latter died in 1918.

Mr. Weston is out every day and at work at the Franklin Mill which his son carries on at Maplewood avenue which was formerly the old Franklin school house. His hearing and eyesight are good and he appears like a much younger man than one of his years. He is interested in current events and reads the daily papers with much interest. He has many friends and received numerous greetings and good wishes on his anniversary day.

Mr. Weston has three sons, Richard S. with whom he resides; Alfred J. the local police officer, and William R Weston, the contractor.

MEMORIAL BRIDGE WILL BE FINISHED BY ARMISTICE DAY

The granite facing for the shore abutment of the Memorial bridge, has been completed and the forms for the concrete top, upon which the steel work of the bridge will rest is in place. The mild weather of the past week has allowed the contractors to make good progress.

The bids for the concrete work which will join the abutment and extend back as retaining walls for the approach have been advertised for and by the first of March everything should be ready for a start. The steel contractors will not come until April first, but it is not thought they will want much of the shore side, as the most of the steel will be assembled at some up river dock and then floated down to the bridge. By that time the pier contractors will have completed their work and be out of the way, so that everything should go ahead with a rush and barring unforeseen difficulties the bridge should be ready for opening on Armistice Day.

Engineer David Smith of the Board of Public Works, who will have charge of the approach construction, is confident that he will have that work done by the time the bridge is ready. The Kittery approach is still undecided, for there is a difference of opinion as to the route that still exists, but this will be settled shortly by the State Highway Commission.

MURPHY'S ORCHESTRA NEXT THURSDAY

All dancers and music lovers are eagerly looking forward to the Murphy's Orchestra dance to be held at Freeman's Ball room, next Thursday evening. This popular orchestra is drawing larger crowds than ever. Announcement was recently made that Murphy had been awarded the largest dance job in N. E., that of furnishing a 16 piece orchestra for the enlarged dancing pavillion at Boar's Head for the 1922 season. Mr. Murphy landed this job in the face of competition of several of New England's greatest orchestras. Murphy has evidently proved to the management there that he can furnish "the best dance music in N.E."

Vincent Dearborn and Isabelle Ford, the exhibition dancers who appear on this date, are the talk of all New England. They have played all the big halls, and are the couple that recently issued the challenge for the N. E. title Don't miss this big double attraction.

THESE RULES MUST BE CARRIED OUT

Write Your News Plainly on One Side of Paper and Give Address.

In the future the Herald must insist that all news matter sent in for publication must be plainly written and on only on one side of the paper. This notice especially applies to house parties, birthday celebrations, weddings, etc. Communications of this nature must be signed or the telephone number given. Much trouble will be avoided in carrying out this rule and prevent correspondence from going to the waste basket. 3t f4

BIGGER AND BETTER

is our motto

The old story illustrates our point to a "T." It goes on to say that an old man living in the wilderness was such an expert in making violins and mousetraps that the people paved a pathway to his workshop in an endeavor to secure the product of his genius.

We don't make violins or mousetraps, but we do make the
